Trails and Pathways

In the spring of 1991, the City began the construction of a recreational loop system of pathways around the community. Each loop is designed to connect neighborhoods with schools, parks, and commercial centers. Funding for the majority of the system was provided by the bond measure approved by the voters in 1990. Lake Oswego pathways are multi-use and shared by walkers, runners, bikers, and pets. Please be courteous to all users.

Lake Oswego is pleased to be part of The Intertwine; an ever-growing network of integrated parks, trails and natural areas that will one day soon be the world's greatest system of its kind. Click on Intertwine Website in the Web Links section below to find out more information.

-
  -

    Pathways Brochure and Map

    This brochure is available from the Parks & Recreation office at 4101 Kruse Way for a $1.00 fee.

    read more

-

-

  Pathways Guide

  Pathway Guide
  In the spring of 1991, the City began the construction of a recreational loop system of pathways around the community. Each loop is designed to connect neighborhoods with schools, parks, and commercial centers. Funding for the majority of the system was provided by the bond measure approved by the voters in 1990.

  read more

-

  Trails Master Plan and Map (2003)

  read more

-

  Oswego Iron Heritage Trail

  The Oswego Iron Heritage Trail is a tour route that guides walkers along existing streets and pathways to seven sites associated with Oregon's pioneer iron industry. The first iron furn

  read more

-
  -
    Pathways Safety Tips

    Lake Oswego boasts many beautiful pathways. Following the Rules of the Road and Safety Tips can help make the outdoor experience better for all users.

    read more

Web Links

Intertwine WebsitePathways Brochure and Map

Source URL (retrieved on 10/21/2014 - 8:15pm): http://ci.oswego.or.us/parksrec/trails-and-pathways