

About Boards & Commissions

The City Council may create standing citizen advisory boards, committees or commissions to aid the Council in the conduct of public affairs. Advisory boards are standing committees not required by state law and are appointed by the Council to advise and make recommendations to the Council regarding topics specified in the Committee's enabling provisions. Commissions mean a standing committee that is required by state law or to which the Council has delegated final decision making authority.

About Boards and Commissions

This describes the various boards and commissions that have been established by Council on a variety of issues. There are links to some boards and commissions on the City's website.

Vacancies

A list of the current vacancies on the various Boards or Commissions is provided, including a description, duties, and qualifications to serve on that particular Board or Commission, a link to the application, and the closing date when applications are due.

Source URL (retrieved on 07/26/2017 - 3:49am): <http://ci.oswego.or.us/boc/about-boards-commissions>