George Rogers Park

Memorial Garden

7:00pm

Enjoy outdoor theater in beautiful George Rogers Park. The Trickster of Seville promises hysterical comedic acts and, as typical in commedia plays, the servants know more than their masters. The play by Tirso de Molina is the first written version of the famous Don Juan legend. Company member Ravyn Jazper-Hawke has created a mash-up using characters and scenes from Moliere and Goldoni adaptations to construct a family friendly comedy. Directed by Fayra Teeters, the company is proud to celebrate their 14th year of outdoor theater performances in Lake Oswego. The performances are family friendly, so join the party on the Memorial Garden with lawn chairs, blankets and your picnic dinner. Dogs are welcome too, on a leash please.
